JAPANESE BEAR NO ILL FEELING AGAINST U. S.

(By Associated Press)

HONOLULU, T. H., July 15.—That the Japanese people as a whole have only the kindest feeling toward America and that heads of the Buddhist faith in Japan are continually preaching a doctrine of peace opposed to militarism, violence and strife of all kinds, were the statements made by Right Rev. Sukuzen Araki, abbot of Sojiji and chief of the monastery of the Soto sect at Tsuromi, Japan, who arrived here recently at the head of a party of Buddhist priests for a month's stay in the islands. The abbot said: "Despite misunderstandings that arise from time to time, the Japanese people in general have the kindest feeling toward the American people. They wish only the warmest and most enduring friendship between the United States and Japan. "Buddhism is commonly misunderstood by Americans," the abbot continued. "The American people do not seem to know that the Buddhist teachings constantly are exerting a pacifying influence in Japan. Our religion is a religion of peace, opposed to militarism, violence and strife of all kinds."

While here the party will dedicate the new Soto sect mission in Honolulu. The monastery of which Abbot Araki is chief is one of the two principal monasteries of the Soto sect in Japan and is said to have been founded in 1210 A. D. The sect which first began its teachings in Hawaii 16 years ago, now has 5000 adherents in the islands, the abbot said.

RADIO STATIONS TO AID SHIPS OFF ALASKAN COAST

(By Associated Press)

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 15.—Many marine dangers, hidden in ocean "graveyards" along Alaska's coast, are to be removed by eight naval radio compass stations which will be built during the next four years. From the stations ships at sea can get their bearings and in fog and storms can proceed safely along the coast.

One station being built this summer is at Soapstone Point, Yakobi island, where ships from southwestern Alaska enter the inside passage northbound for Seattle. In the past ships have lost many days waiting for thick weather to clear so they could get past Soapstone Point and into Cross Sound. When the station is in operation they will be able to pick up the entrance to Cross Sound by wireless.

Another station now under construction is at Cape Hinchinbrook, at the entrance to Prince William sound, on which Valdez and other southwestern Alaska points are located.

According to present plans, the Soapstone station will be opened next October, after a crew of trained men is assembled and tests are made with ships at sea. The Cape Hinchinbrook station will be completed later.

Care is being taken in construction of living quarters for the men at the stations, for the points are isolated and the government is trying to offset some of the disadvantages by attractive housing. There will be a dormitory, baths, electric lights and other facilities. Both stations are located in parts of Alaska noted for hunting and fishing. Two stations are to be built each year until the eight are completed.

MEXICAN CONSUL NOW IN ALASKA

(By Associated Press)

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 15.—Rodolfo Ramirez, first Mexican consul to Alaska, opened his office here recently.

TOKIO, July 15.—Japan's answer to President Harding's proposal for a conference on limitation of armaments, which has been forwarded to Washington, while accepting the suggestion for an armament conference, says the Jiji Shimpu, makes reservations concerning general far eastern questions until more has been learned as to the scope and nature of the questions to be considered.

Generally speaking, the fear is voiced that Japan may be forced to play a lone hand and have another diplomatic battle on her hands similar to that at the peace conference at Paris besides being placed constantly on the defensive regarding her far eastern rights.

In an article which seems to reflect the representative view, Nichi Nichi Shimbun declares that as long as the powers practice racial discrimination against the Japanese in the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and elsewhere, while demanding enforcement of equal privileges and equal opportunities in the far east, Japan should carefully consider before joining in such a conference.

Further indications are given that the government is far from being convinced Japan will remain aloof from the proposed discussion of far eastern questions in connection with the disarmament conference. No purpose to lay down any hard and fast rules for the subjects marked the American invitations and Japan was held to be quite within her rights in wishing to know something of the nature of the program.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—The United States has informed Japan of the ideas on the scope of the disarmament conference. The action is intended to meet Japan's desire to know the extent to which far eastern affairs are to be discussed before she goes further in considering the invitation to participate. Official circles here continue to evince great confidence that complete acceptance of the American invitation eventually will come from Japan.
